PRESIDENT CACERES ASSASSINATED NO MORE DANDRUFA; FALLING HAIR

Executive of the Dominican Republic Dies in American Legation After He Had Been Riddled With Bullets -Pursued to a Stable Where He Sought Shelter-Dead President Was Slayer of President Hereaux.

Washington, Nov. 26.—President Caceres of the Dominican republic was shot yesterday afternoon as he left the house of Leonte Vasquez at San Dominical City, where he had made a call. He died half an hour later in the American legation, whither he was taken. The first shots of his assailants, Lais Tejera and Jaime Mote, Jr., according to advices received today at the state department, were not effective.

Pursued to a Stable.

The wounded president sought shelter in a stable adjoining the American legation, but his assailants pursued him thither and, closing in upon him, fired more shots. Friends dragged him to the American legation, where he died at 5.30 o'clock. The assassins fled died at 5.39 o'clock. The assassins fled to San Cristobal. Charge Endicott reports that the city is quiet and is patroled by guards. Minister Russell, who represents the United States in the Dominican republic, is now at his home near this city. He has arranged to leave tomorrow for Havana, whence he will cross Cuba to Guantanamo.

If no commercial steamer is at hand he probably will be transported to San Domingo by one of the gunboats now at Guantanamo. President Caceres' somewhat stormy career is recalled by officials here who are familiar with the Dominican temperament. It is remembered that the president himself was the slayer of the redoubtable old dictator, Hereaux, in 1899, as he alleged, in self defense. It is likewise known that relatives of the former president cherished a desire that the death of their kinsman be avenged.

Mingo in four years, whereas the history of the country prior to that time showed an average of at least one revolution a year. Secretary Stimson believes this satisfactory condition to be a direct result of the assumption by officials here who are familiar with the Dominican customs.

Stimson Sends Condeinces.

Secretary Stimson made the acquaintance of President Caceres last summer after a trip to Panama. He has sent a cablegram of condolences to Caceres' widow.

It is pointed out that, irrespective of the cause of the assassination, serious complications may arise if ambitious politicians seize upon the present condition of the country to further their own ends. These considerations lead to the bellef that Dominica is about to enter upon another troubled chapter in her history.

President Caceres political career may be said to have begun when he killed President Hereaux in 1899. He was a partisan of General Jiminez and the death of President Hereaux made possible the succession of Jiminez to the presidency. Caceres became minister of war in the Jimenez cabinet, was subsequently made vice president under Morales and succeeded Morales as president in December, 1905.

It is pointed out at the war department that this is the first serious trouble which has occurred in Santo Domingo in four years, whereas the history of the country prior to that time showed an average of at least one revolution a year. Secretary Stimson believes this satisfactory condition to be a direct result of the assumption by the United States of the collection of the Dominican customs.

LONDON SUFFRAGETTES TO DEMONSTRATE TONIGHT.

Plan to Make Attack on Parliament Gift of Manuscripts and Letters of Building After Dark.

London Nov. 20 .- The suffragettes are planning to renew their attacks on parliament with a battle tomorrow night which will surpass all previous campaigns. A few days ago a delegation of suffragettes interviewed Premier Asquith and tried to obtain a pledge that the government would undertake to near a bill giving count. dertake to pass a bill giving equal suffrage to both sexes. Premier As-quith declined to make such a pledge, but told the women instead that he had always been opposed to woman suffrage.

At a subsequent meeting the suf-fragettes decided to inaugurate a "war of demonstration" in Parliament square on Nov. 21. They have summoned all their followers and sympathizers to assemble around the parliament building at 8 o'clock in the evening. The fact that the gathering is fixed for ofter dark may make unusual trouble for the police. Mrs. Pethick Lawrence explains it thus:

The gathering has been arranged late for the express reason that the decent, honest workingman will be in the streets. We have found that their presence affords women moral protec-tion against violence by the police and hooligans."

Miss Christabel Pankhurst said tomight that this time the women certainly will push their way to the floor of the house of commons to make their protest against "the great insult Mr.
Asquith has given."

STEEL TRUST OPPOSES ANY FURTHER INQUIRY

Point Raised That the Government Mas Aiready Brou

Washington, Nov. 26.—When the house special committee of inquiry into the United States Steel corporation net today to resume hearings, it was met today to resume hearings, it was confronted with objections to continuance of its work. These were made for the steel corporation by its counsel, Richard V. Lindabury and D. A. Reid, on the ground that the United States government has brought suit against the corporations for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The objections were made in executive objections were made in executive session of the committee, six members of whom were present. Counsel for the steel trust based their principal countries. cipal argument on a particular phrase in the original resolution passed by congress authorizing the appointment of the committee and directing the inquiry. This phrase directs the committee to inquire into violations of the law "which have not been prosecuted by the executive officers of the government."

After several hours' deliberation the chairman announced that it had been unanimously decided to defer action on the disputed point until the full committee reassembles, and in the meanimitee reassembles, and in the meanimite reassembles. time to proceed tomorrow with the hearing of witnesses already summon-
